

Making a mineral lick

1. To make a mineral lick, you need:

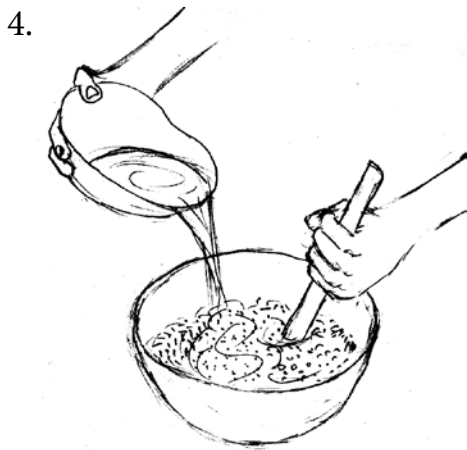

2. Burn animal bones and pound them.

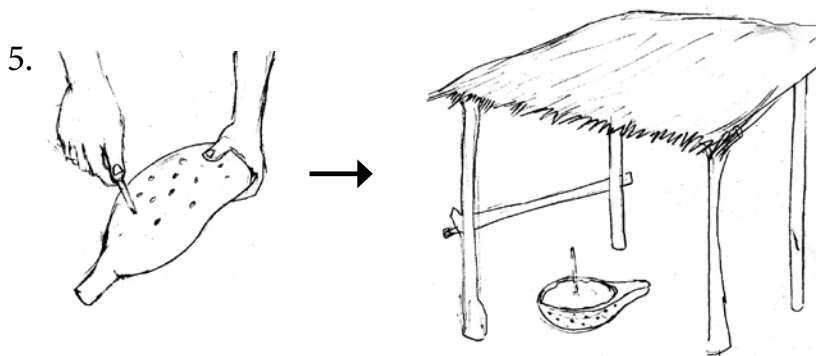

Sift the ash of the animal bones to remove any big pieces.

Mix the ash, salt and soil with some water until it is a thick paste.

Carve some holes in an empty calabash. Pour the paste into the calabash. Place a stick in the center and let it dry for 2-3 days.

Remove the mineral lick from the container. Take the stick out and replace it with a string. Tie the lick to a place where cows can easily get to it.
