

Registering Participants

1.

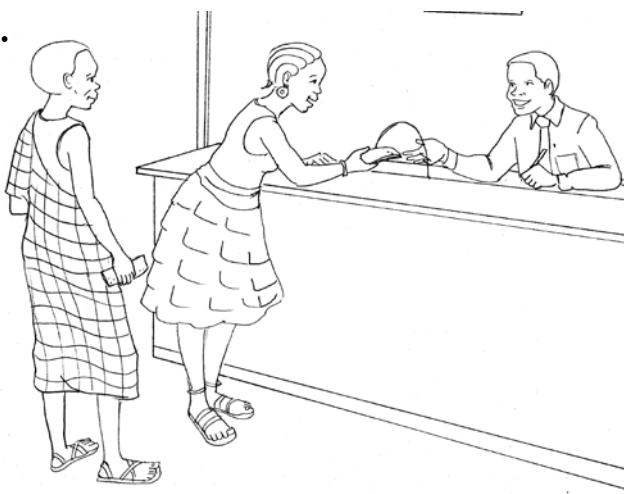

Each member will regularly contribute to group savings. The group decides how much money each person must contribute.

2.

The group must register with the Community Development Office (CDO).

3.

The group must open a bank account to manage their finances. The profits will be placed in the account for group investments. They will not be distributed in cash to each member.

4.

The field school will form mini groups. They are host teams for the full group. A host team prepares activities, arranges the training site and assists the facilitator.
